LoProCO primarily focuses on developing partnerships between educational institutions, such as K12 schools, along with local farmers, producers and food hubs while creating a model that is replicable to other public and private institutions with pre-existing food service programs.

CULINARY TRAINING
We focus on culinary training to ensure food services are equipped with the culinary skills necessary to prepare locally grown and raised products. We also equip growers and food hubs with the knowledge to tailor their locally grown products for school and institutional use.

CUSTOMIZED SYSTEMS
We empower institutions by teaching them the skills to create sustainable systems as well as menu planning and navigating procurement regulations while also providing back-end technical support.

COMPREHENSIVE MARKETING APPROACH
We engage our partners in an integrated, comprehensive approach to marketing so they can best communicate the value of local food and its impact on their organization.

POLICY ADVOCACY
We are committed to affecting local, state, and federal legislation that supports local and regional agriculture, and prioritizes the support of farm to institution food procurement.

---

Reach out!
LiveWell Colorado
(720) 353-4120
livewellcolorado.org

Jessica E. Wright
BACM
Procurement and Culinary Programs Manager
jessicawright@livewellcolorado.org

Wendy Peters Moschetti
BASW, MCP
Director of Food Systems
wendymoschetti@livewellcolorado.org